

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

The University of Michigan is a public research university located in Ann Arbor, Michigan. It was founded in 1817 and is one of the oldest universities in the United States. The university is known for its strong academic programs, particularly in engineering, medicine, and law. It also has a strong tradition in sports, particularly football and basketball. The university's campus is located in a beautiful, hilly area just west of downtown Ann Arbor. The university is a member of the Big Ten Conference in college football and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) in college basketball. The university's mascot is the Wolverine, which is a symbol of strength and resilience. The university's colors are blue and yellow, and its official name is the University of Michigan.